PREFACE.

The present volume carries the Calendar of Liberate Rolls of Chancery to the 35th year of Henry III. The object and character of the Calendar are explained in the preface to the first volume.

The text has been prepared by Mr. J. B. W. Chapman, M.A., and the index by Mr. D. L. Evans, B.A., B.Litt., both of this department.

There is some variation in the use of the word Contrabreve in connection with writs addressed to others than the treasurer and barons. In the rolls printed in the first volume, such writs are generally though not always marked with the word Contrabreve in the margin. In those printed in the second volume this is hardly ever the case ; but the word is used in the heading of the rolls. In those printed in the present volume it is again usual. But there is no apparent difference between the entries of this class where it is used and those where it is not.
